

TIME	ROOM	DAY 1 WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 24 TH 2018
11:45-13:30	HAZEL (Roundtable Room 1) 1st Floor	ROUNDTABLE SESSION 1 Intelligence in the Digital Age This roundtable will explore how digital technologies are radically altering three areas: operational tradecraft, intelligence analysis and strategic intelligence. We will seek to address what is going on, what it means, and how intelligence agencies should react. Now is the time for intelligence professionals to recognize that digital technologies are “formal causes”, structuring national security choices and shaping both causes and effects in national security issues. Opening Remarks: Grzegorz Mafiecki - Director of Cybersecurity Programme, Casimir Pulaski Foundation Moderator: Milo Jones - Associate Professor, IE Business School
11:45-12:45	POPLAR (Roundtable Room 4) 1st Floor	ROUNDTABLE SESSION 2 Defining Central Europe and the V4: Historical and Policy Perspectives Three decades have passed since the democratic transformation of East-Central European countries and the establishment of the Visegrad cooperation. The emerging roles of regional partnerships, the strengthening of the V4 Group in the European Union and particularly the strong economic growth results and prospects of its four member states all contribute to a growing interest in this regional format. It is therefore appropriate to analyse the political and socio-economic processes in the region from the distinct Central European perspective. Opening Remarks: Peter Dobrowiecki - Head of EU-V4 Office, The Antall József Knowledge Centre in Hungary Moderator: Peter Stepper - Senior Research Fellow at Security Policy Office, The Antall József Knowledge Centre in Hungary Session in partnership with the Antall József Knowledge Centre
11:45-12:45	ALDER (Roundtable Room 3) 1st Floor	ROUNDTABLE SESSION 3 A rising dragon and an ailing bear. Is the China - Russia cooperation a temporary partnership, or a permanent alliance? Relations between the US and Russia as well as China are now at their lowest since the dissolution of the USSR. Both of the latter states challenge the US in their own way – Russia is fomenting wars in Syria and Ukraine, while China is now not only engaged in a trade war in the US, but just as importantly questions the very core of the post-World War 2 order, ignoring tenets of international law courtesy of its actions in the South China Sea. Opening remarks: Bobo Lo - Independent Analyst Moderator: Patrycja Pendrakowska - Poland-Asia Research Center
11:45-12:45	LIME 1st Floor	EXECUTIVE DIALOGUE SESSION 1 5th generation aircraft. Revolutionizing modern battlefield? Moderator: Maciej Szopa - Research Fellow, Casimir Pulaski Foundation

15:00-16:15	ALDER (Roundtable Room 3) 1st Floor	ROUNDTABLE SESSION 4 How likely? Perception and reality of terrorist activities in the West following collapse of the IS. Can we honestly say the terror wave in the West has passed? Do terror groups from Middle East or Northern Africa still pose a challenge? What happened to „lone wolves” and to groups active in Paris or Brussels suburbs? Where are those individuals who were sought as „returnees from jihad”? What do we now about new connections between terror and organized crime?The roundtable should seek for answers regarding the perception of terror threat levels in Europe among the communities and individuals. The panel should give interdisciplinary answers from not only „terror experts” but also sociologists, psychologists and political scientists who would try to show the effects of the past dangers. The roundtable is also destined to describe current and realistic threats and depict how this phenomenon is changing and how the West reacts. Opening remarks: Piotr Gastał - Former JW GROM Commander Hoshyar Siwaily - Head of Kurdistan Democratic Party's Foreign Relations Office Moderator: Piotr Łukasiewicz - Senior Fellow, Casimir Pulaski Foundation
15:15-16:30	POPLAR (Roundtable Room 1) 1st Floor	ROUNDTABLE SESSION 5 CE Futures - Scenarios for Central Europe in 2025 As nearly three decades after regaining sovereignty have passed, almost two decades after NATO enlargement, and well over a decade into EU membership, the erstwhile success story of Central Europe faces more uncertainty than ever. “Scenarios for Central Europe in 2025” is a scenario-building exercise to discuss possible geopolitical developments in Central Europe. Throughout 2018, a group of 40 policy experts, leaders and innovators, mostly from the Visegrad countries, met for two workshops and elaborated five principal scenarios. These scenarios will be presented in form of a report and discussed during the roundtable Opening remarks: Joerg Forbrig - Senior Transatlantic Fellow, German Marshall Fund of the US Wojciech Przybylski - Editor in Chief, Visegrad Insight Moderator: Marcin Bużański - Preident, GlobalnyLider.PL; Senior Advisor, Casimir Pulaski Foundation Session in partnership with Visegrad Insight and the German Marshall Fund of US.
15:15-16:30	LIME 1st Floor	EXECUTIVE DIALOGUE SESSION 2 National Armament Policy. How countries like Poland can prepare for effective implementation of equipment acquisition? Moderator: Paulina Zamelek - Research Fellow, Casimir Pulaski Foundation
16:30-17:45	POPLAR (Roundtable Room 4) 1st Floor	ROUNDTABLE SESSION 6 Concept of National Resilience Centre Moderator: Maciej Milczanowski - Research Fellow, Casimir Pulaski Foundation

TIME	ROOM	DAY 2 THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25 TH 2018
09:30-11:15	HAZEL (Roundtable Room 1) 1st Floor	ROUNDTABLE SESSION 7 Balance Sheet of the US Allies and Implications for Alliance Policy The aim of the roundtable meeting, which will be based on results of a report prepared by the Sasakawa Peace Foundation and Casimir Pulaski Foundation, is to discuss how Poland, Japan and other allies can individually or collectively work to meet American expectations of burden sharing. Additionally, the meeting will provide policy recommendations for the Polish and Japanese governments in employing their “bargaining chips” effectively in future negotiations with Washington. Opening Remarks: Tomasz Smura - Head of the Research Office, Casimir Pulaski Foundation Tsuneo Watanabe - Senior Fellow, The Sasakawa Peace Foundation Rira Momma - Head of the China Division, National Institute for Defense Studies, MOD, Japan Thomas S. Wilkins - Senior Lecturer, University of Sydney Moderator: Naomi Konda - Research Fellow of International Peace and Security Department, The Sasakawa Peace Foundation Session in partnership with the Sasakawa Peace Foundation
10:00-11:15	LIME 1st Floor	EXECUTIVE DIALOGUE SESSION 3 How can Navy adapt to evolving threats? Moderator: Rafał Ciastoń - Research Fellow, Casimir Pulaski Foundation
11:30-12:45	LIME 1st Floor	EXECUTIVE DIALOGUE SESSION 4 Integrated Air and Missile Defence - Game-changing concepts and technologies. Cooperation within NATO During Anaconda 2016, the largest NATO exercise since the Cold War, Gen. Ben Hodges pointed to achieving a common air picture as one of the most pressing operational needs for allied troops. The IAMD Executive Dialogue will press the issue of new communication, detection and intercept technologies as they relate to safety of NATO member states. Moderator: Maciej Kowalski - Head of International Security and Defence Programme, Casimir Pulaski Foundation
11:30-12:45	HAZEL (Roundtable Room 1) 1st Floor	ROUNDTABLE SESSION 8 Play of Battle. Concept, design and market perspectives for commercial, off-the-shelf simulations. Moderator: Jacek Bartosiak - Director of the Wargaming Studies and Simulations Programme, Casimir Pulaski Foundation

13:30-14:30	LIME 1st Floor	EXECUTIVE DIALOGUE SESSION 5 How to develop an ISR capability at both national and alliance levels? The C4ISR framework set out by NATO Communication and Information Agency (NCIA) is a roadmap for developing interoperable, national systems. How can Poland - currently at the forefront of armed forces modernization in Eastern Europe – ensure compliance with these guidelines? Which development paths will other countries pursue? The Dialogue will explore the realm of the possible in ISR technology and how to build a sustainable reconnaissance architecture. Moderator: Grzegorz Mańceki - Director of Cybersecurity Programme, Casimir Pulaski Foundation
14:00-16:30	ALDER (Roundtable Room 3) 1st Floor	ROUNDTABLE SESSION 9 Transatlantic Roundtable on Disinformation, Ethics and Securitisation Session in partnership with the National Endowment for Democracy, the International Republican Institute and the Centre for Propaganda and Disinformation Analysis First part of an event entitled: “Addressing Disinformation: Anticipating threats, building resilience and fostering open dialogue through State-Civil Society cooperation”, designed to bring together key state officials, researchers, activists and tech experts to discuss how best state institutions and CSOs can work together, or where their actions can complement one another on a range of issues from election campaign regulation, privacy laws, or more CSO-driven initiatives, including research and analytics, developing new technology, legislation scrutiny and fact- checking. Moderator: Igor Merheim-Eyre - Beacon Project, International Republican Institute